[D] Tonight, all the folks will cut the corn, (Cut the corn),
[A] Tonight I'll be glad that I was [D] born, (I was born)
For my [G] Henry Lee I'll see, He'll be [D] cutting corn with me,
And we'll meet beneath the [A] bitter [A7] berry [D] tree.

Chorus [D] “A”-round the corner, [G]! Yoo [D]! Hoo,
[D] Beneath the berry [A] Tree,
[D] “A”-round the footpath, [G] behind the bush,
[A7] Looking for Henry [D] Lee.

[D] Tonight, all the stars are shining bright, (Shining bright)
[A] Tonight all the cornfields are a [D] sight, (Are a sight)
I have [G] reached the meeting spot, but my [D] Henry Lee has not,
I wonder can it be [A] that [A7] he for-[D]-got. -----Chorus

[D] Tonight, as the moon begins to sink, (begins to sink)
[A] Tonight, there are footsteps which I [D] think, (which I think)
Will at [G] last bring him to me, my [D] beloved Henry Lee,
But I don't see why [A] so late [A7] he has to [D] be. -----Chorus

[D] I've told Henry Lee to go away, (Far away)
[A] But now I am sad he didn't [D] stay, (Didn't stay)
And to-[G] morrow night if he, comes a [D] looking 'round for me,
I'll be sitting 'neath the [A] bitter [A7] berry tree. -----Chorus
